THE NEWS.

By the arrival yesterday of the Brother Jonathan we have seven days later news .-Watlike matters in both Europe and America seem to have taken a temporary lull; but it is the dread calm which presages the coming storm. In America the contending forces are preparing for in all probability the last great clash of arms that will take place during the remainder of the contest. Grant has been given supreme command of the Army of the Potomac, and asks immediately for more troops to end the war. The President responds, and calls for 200,000 additional men. In the meantime, Lee is daily receiving large accessions to his forces, and an advance on his part is almost hourly expected. The great and we believe final streggle is there-fore at hand. Every available man in the South has been enrolled; and the North claims to have 200,000 more men in the field than it had this time last year. The greatest effort that the South can put forward will soon be in execution; should that effort failshould the hither to successful Grant overcome his wily and sagacious opponent, and drive Lee's forces out of Virginia, the war will speedily collapse. The "pool," as an English writer observes, from which the South is drawing its supplies, must in the natural course of events become exhausted; while Stair the Northern "stream" will continue to flow so long as the steam packet plies her vocation between the Irish and American coasts. A Docskin bill has been introduced in the Senate to deprive deserters who have escaped to the British provinces of all future privileges of citi Men's White and Colored Lambswool zenship unless they immediately give themselves up for military duty. In the House the Committee on Commerce authorises the President, with consent of the Senate, to ap- | Lambswool Pants and Shirts; point three Commissioners to confer with the Commissioners appointed by Great Britain to | Fancy Hosiery ; negotiate a new treaty between the two Gov- | Shirt Collars, Braces, Ties; ernments based upon " true principles of reciprocity, and for the removal of existing diffi. Chenille Hair Nets : culties." The people of Vancouver Island having shown themselves desirous to participate in this new treaty, the Government of Shawls, Mantles, &c., &c. the Colony will require to exert itself to have Pieces Tweed; the matter quickly laid before the Imperial authorities.

European affairs, as we have implied, are a momentous attitude. A Conference has been decided on by the Great Powers; but, in the meantime, Austria and Prussia, in defiance of France and England's protest against the advance into Jutland, are marching their troops towards the prohibited territory with His Worship the Mayor. the view to invest Frederica. The Danes put on a determined front, and the various Powers of Europe are gradually espousing their cause. Italy tenders to England an army of 40,000 men, in conjunction with the Italian fleet, in case an open rupture is made with the German Powers-a fact which speaks volumes as to the opinion of liberal Europe, and which indicates pretty clearly in what direction the war will turn, when once beyond the Duchies. Napoleon, as might have been to be had from any of the Managing Committee, expected, is not so energetic in his protest against Prussia as England; but it by no means follows that he is any less interested in the result. The game is evidently in his hands, and he can afford to wait patiently on his opponent's play. The Archduke Maximilian is at last and finally announced to leave Paris for Mexico. In the meanwhile the French land forces had left Guadalajara on the 24th February, for Colina, at which place an engagement was supposed to have already taken place between them and the TY oughly competent man constant employment and liberal wages will be given. Apply to WILSON a MUKRAY, Victoria Bakery. Fort Mexican forces. Wherever we look, therefore, or from whatever place we receive ad vices, war seems to be triumphant. Not quarter of the globe is exempt from its actual TREASURY NOTICE. or prospective presence. It flourishes in Europe, and is intermittent in Asia. It devastates the smaller American republics, as well as the great one-and in fact at present well as the great one—and in fact at present throws its lurid glare over the savage and the civilized in almost every portion of the the civilized in almost every portion of the the threasury.

1 The Assessment Roll for the Half-Year commencing lat January, 1861, was finally passes by the Court of Revisors on the 19th Intant, and that the amounts so assessed are now parable in the Treasury.
